Brigadier Generals

PASSAGE BETWEEN SENATORS EDMUNDS AND BLAIR

We take the following sharp passage from the debate on the Amnesty bill in the United States Senate

Mr Norwood asked Mr Edmunds to state the proofs of the charge against Generals Wade Hampton, Butler and Kershaw

Mr Edmunds said he had already stated that he was informed from the best authority that the Executive Department of the Government of the United States had evidence showing that the three persons he had named were at this moment or were a month ago the advisory board of the Ku Klux Klan whatever that might be Perhaps the Senator (Norwood) as he lived near the locality could tell better than he could

Mr Blair thinking that Mr Edmunds referred to him said he did not live near the locality but he had been there, and he had heard the testimony on the subject, and he would just as readily believe him (Edmunds) capable of being a Ku Klux as Generals Hampton Butler and Kershaw He believed that if men like those charged by Mr Edmunds had directed the Ku Klux operations, they would have begun by Ku Kluxing the scoundrels sent down there by Congress, under the Reconstruction laws, to rob and plunder the people and who were a disgrace to the country and age

Mr Edmunds—Undoubtedly we all know that in the honorable Senator's opinion reconstruction is a disgrace to the age and country, but it was not a disgrace and outrage that there should be an organization for the commission of murder arson and all other kinds of outrage

Mr Blair I prefer to stigmatize those who have caused these outrages

Mr Edmunds made a remark implying, that Mr Blair as he did not denounce the outrages, must approve them

Mr Blair Upon the same principle I might charge the Senator (Edmunds) with approving the thieving and robbery of the infamous carpet bag governments that he helped to establish in the South for he has never once condemned them

Mr Edmunds I will be as candid than the Senator, Blair I have not condemned the thieving of the carpet bag governments as he calls them because I do not believe it [Laughter ] I deny that the carpet bag governments at the South are thieving governments in the sense in which he uses the term but I have no doubt that in the South as in the North, there are men in office who do not administer rightly the duties and functions intrusted to them and as soon as it is declared that any government in the South or elsewhere is not faithful to its trust in the highest degree I will go to the very verge of the Constitution with the Senator to put it down

Mr Blair I am very glad to hear that

Mr Edmunds—I should be still more glad to hear the Senator say that he will go with me to protect the loyal black men of the country but on the contrary when we propose to do that he is always against us

Mr Blair —I went to protect the liberties of the whole country in the battle field

Mr Edmunds Yes the Senator went war but he got through too soon [Laughter ]

Mr Blair—Well it is time for you to do something in that way now you did nothing then [Laughter ]

Mr Edmunds I do not wish to institute a comparison between my services and those of the Senator from Missouri but perhaps he will pardon me if I suggest that the Government was not saved altogether by Brigadier Generals [Laughter]

The Would be Governor of Washington Territory

[From the Helena (Montana) Herald ]

His name is Legate—this the man who would be come the Governor of our sister west side Territory of Washington We have had occasion to refer to this man in previous issues of this paper, but were unable to get at his antecedents until to day, when a gentleman of this city volunteered the following leaf in his history which we publish for the benefit of our neighbors over the range Legate has been a small fry politician in Kansas since the time of Jim Lane, and has acquired some distinction or notoriety as a persistent hanger-on to one or more of the prominent public men of that State to the present day He was the man "Friday" of ex Senator Ross and in the impeachment of "His Accidency" A. Johnson, was the "go between" to secure the apostacy of his chief In Butler's famous investigation following that trial, Legate was among those summoned to testify before the Committee with regard to the purchase of certain Senators who arrayed themselves against impeachment In his evidence the fact was fully elicited that Legate, who was altogether impecunious—a sort of galvanized financial corpse—drew a check for a very large sum of money on the Washington banks, payable to the order of Ross, which was placed in the hands of that Senator and realized upon in full Legate was subjected to a rigid examination, but refused to divulge the source from which he received the money, or the amount he dispensed to bring about the acquittal of the Executive arraigned before the Senate for grave misdemeanors The Committee, without authority to punish for contempt, was forced to relinquish its grip upon this contumacious witness, and he escaped merited punishment by incarceration in the Old Capitol prison on a bread and water diet Subsequent to this, Mr Legate, in recognition of his services to the Johnson Administration, was appointed by Postmaster General Randall as Mail Agent over one of the Kansas railroads, in which capacity he served the Government for some time What calling he has pursued or what labor he has performed for a livelihood since we are not prepared to say. We recognize the fact that his name has been for some weeks before the Senate for confirmation as Governor of Washington Territory, and we discover in the call of Senators, (reported in our dispatches a few days since,) for the "impeachment testimony elicited by the Butler or House Investigating Committee, the apparent well founded conviction of the confirming power that Legate is wholly unworthy of the high position he seeks—a place to which the President has evidently unwittingly erred in nominating him Who Legate's backers are we have no means of knowing, nor do we care to know It is sufficient for us to understand that he is not a fit person to be clothed with the powers or to exercise the functions of Governor of a great Territory, and we sincerely trust our Washington neighbors may be rescued by the President or the Senate from so dire an infliction.

Brigham Young

HIS SANDS OF LIFE RUNNING OUT—A LEAF FROM HIS PAST HISTORY.

The telegraph reports Brigham Young as rapidly failing, and makes it quite likely that his death cannot be long delayed. This extraordinary man was born at Whittingham, Vermont, on the 1st of June, 1801, and therefore lacks but little of seventy one years of age His father was a farmer who had been a soldier of the Revolution, and Brigham doubtless inherited some of his daring and love of excitement His first connection with the monstrous hierarchy of Mormonism, of which he has so long been the head and exponent, was in 1832 when he announced himself as a "convert," and making his way to Kirtland, Ohio, the then headquarters of the new dispensation, was ordained an elder and began to preach His talents, shrewdness, and especially his wonderful quickness and aptness in reading men, attracted the attention of the prophet Joseph Smith, who soon ordained him as one of the Twelve Apostles, then first constituted, and sent him on a proselyting tour through the Eastern States He was signally successful in making converts and at the death of Joseph Smith in 1844 secured the election to his vacant position of first President, over Sidney Rigdon, Smith's original partner in the fraud, who, being "contumacious," naturally enough at this being thrown overboard, was solemnly "cut off," cursed and handed over to the devil "to be buffeted in the flesh a thousand years "

In 1847 Brigham removed to Salt Lake City—the Mormons having been driven out of Nauvoo in 1845—and a year later the faithful emigrated thither and founded the new kingdom, which they called Deseret The course of Brigham Young since that time, his repeated browbeatings of the Territorial authorities and his virtually unopposed sway for so many years, are fresh in the recollection of our readers By his shrewdness and the ignorance and superstition of his followers, he has not only made himself the spiritual and political head of the community, but has contrived to have the handling of all the funds, and to have amassed from the tithes and from private speculations a gigantic fortune, which, from its varied and widely scattered character, it would doubtless be impossible to estimate closely Of late it has appeared as if his course was about run and that justice was at last to overtake him for his complicity in many crimes of which there can be no reasonable doubt But if Divine Providence removes him from an earthly to a higher tribunal, doubtless his own people will reverence him as a saint or a god while the world will be none the worse for his absence and see in it no cause for regret

The "passive policy" which is now so vigorously advocated by the Northern wing of the old Democracy proves at least one thing and that is that its advocates have lost all hope of future success under a distinctive party flag They feel that as a political power that organization which for so many years controlled the policy of the Government has practically ceased to exist Disgusted with the unpatriotic if not traitorous record, which their party made for itself during the late war for the preservation of the Union, it is not surprising that those who have heretofore upheld its fortunes and sounded its shibboleth should be willing to bury it out of sight, and henceforth link their fortunes to any programme which the most venturesome might propose

Alexander H Stephens takes this view of politics

If the Democratic leaders should coalesce with so called Liberal Republicans, and nominate a Republican for the Presidency a large number of the southern Democrats will vote for General Grant They have no particular objection any way to General Grant, and they will by voting for him, not only manifest their just indignation at those of their leaders who will have betrayed them and sacrificed their principles by nominating a Republican, but they will show their good sense by preferring the real to the spurious article

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN ]

EASTERN STATES

Roughs in Chicago

CHICAGO, March 11 — Yesterday Sergeant Buckley of the city police while attempting to protect the people on the streets from a crowd of rude boys, was set upon by a number of grown ruffians and beaten terribly and left insensible His injuries, it is feared, will prove fatal Never in history has Chicago been so overrun by a vile class of rowdies and desperadoes, and the press unite in demanding stringent remedial measures

Murders.

Near Arcola, Douglas county Ill , one day last week Henry Landers, an old citizen, was shot three times, probably fatal, by his son a young man 21 years old The old man had a violent temper and had driven the family out of the house, which caused the difficulty in which he was shot

DAYTON, Ohio, March 11 —A horrible murder of a wife and three children by the husband, was committed at a farm house six miles from this city, on Saturday The wife was found in bed naked and strangled, and the children, aged eight and six years, and six months respectively, were found on the bank of a creek a short distance from the house. The infant's skull was crushed and the two elder children were evidently drowned, and afterwards taken from the creek

Leonard Maynard, the supposed murderer of his family, has been arrested There will be an inquest over the victims to day

Second Dispatch—Leonard Maynard, who murdered his wife and children, is evidently insane

Miscellaneous Eastern News

CHICAGO, March 11 —Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, has arrived in this city. He is understood to have pronounced against the Administration and in favor of Judge Davis if Grant is nominated A New Orleans gentleman accompanied the Governor, who reports that Gen. Longstreet has resigned the Surveyorship of New Orleans on the ground that he cannot support the administration policy in Louisiana

New York News

NEW YORK, March 11—An immense crowd endeavored to obtain admittance to the Common Pleas Court this morning to witness the trial of Mayor Hall. The police were called into requisition before order could be restored It was announced that one of the jurors was prevented by sickness from attending. A certificate was read from a physician stating that it would endanger the life of the juror to attend for several days After some debate from counsel Judge Daly adjourned Court till Friday morning.

It is stated that chairmaker Ingersoll, plumber Keiser, Hennessy, Cook and Woodworth, will turn States evidence The indictments against Ingersoll have been withheld by direction of the Attorney General, and when the Deputy Sheriff had an opportunity to arrest him, he was prevented by the authorities

Samuel J. Tilden says there are five bushels of testimony collected against Tweed, and that but very little of the evidence against the Ring has been published Chas O'Conor will give his professional aid in the prosecution of Ring criminals when tried.

A reporter who has interviewed Tweed says the "Boss" said he felt well, but he looked strangely pallid and care worn. He jested about Garvey's advent and his own increased avoirdupois. In reference to Garvey's testimony implicating him, Tweed said such a thing was to be expected, as he had no doubt the prosecution had arranged with him, before he was put on the stand, just what he should say and what he should not tell He had been very anxious to leave the city for a short time on business, but was prevented from doing so by the fact that he wished to have the case against him disposed of before his departure

It seems certain that though Connolly, Sweeney and Ingersoll are invisible, they are hovering around the city—occasionally visiting it in secret.

A dispatch from Pisa announces the death of Mazzini

The Utah Question.

CHICAGO, March 11 —A Washington special says that United States Attorney General Bates will reply to the Attorney General's request to morrow, asking his resignation Bates will refuse to comply with his invitation, on the ground that charges were brought against him, and because Utah, recently organized as a district of justice, has expressed entire satisfaction at his course in the Mormon prosecution In this connection it may be stated that Dr Newman had a recent interview with the President, wherein the latter urged a persistent prosecution of the Mormons, as the country would not indorse any compromise, Dr Newman ended by stating that Bates' resignation should be demanded, both as a matter of policy and justice

The question whether Polo shall be received as Spanish Minister is still unsettled The State Department does not look upon Robert's resignation with the least favor and in the present delicate condition of affairs between the United States and Spain Polo s presence, it is feared will only be calculated to increase a complication of the situation If the Department can obtain in time certain speeches and pamphlets against this country, the authorship of which is attributed to him, they may be made the basis of expressing a wish not to receive him

Statement of the British Case before the Geneva Conference

NEW YORK, Feb 27

The Tribune publishes an abstract of the British case submitted to arbitration at Geneva In this statement Her Majesty's Government complains that it had to reply to arguments not yet presented When these shall have been presented and the claims of the United States shall be defined precisely Her Majesty's Government will exercise the right conferred upon it by Article 4 of the Agreement to submit to the tribunal an additional article, or more particularly the statement of facts as the case may require and put into comparison the cases presented by both parties, who shall determine the points really in dispute between the two Governments It will refrain from all discussion intended to sustain its own position and will limit itself at present to submitting, to the decision of the tribunal the following considerations

As the ships whatever may be the circumstances by which they were procured in British war ports for war purposes and were employed as belligerent cruisers against the United States while Great Britain itself remained neutral, these events have been the cause of displeasure and regret to the Government of Her Britannic Majesty The regret exists despite the following facts, which it must be conceded are important to arrive at a just appreciation of the question The vessels were procured by cunning and clandestine means, which baffled the vigilance of the Government of the frigates not one had the least armament, while some had been constructed as ordinary merchant vessels having nothing which would adapt them specially for war in numbers they were few and finally the persons who obtained possession and control of them and employed them for belligerent purposes were themselves American citizens which the United States Government has always admitted Such facts should seriously affect in the mind of every impartial man the question.

Relative to the responsibility of a neutral government, the United States Government profess to have sought no pecuniary indemnity for claims which it says result from the acts of these vessels That is to say, warlike operations carried on by means of these ships and by persons who had them in their possession It is evident that a pretension of this nature is such that her Majesty's Government, animated as it is with most amicable sentiments toward the United States could not in respect of its own rights and those of neutral nations in general, consent to admit since it believes that it is not founded in justice. It devolves on the United States to establish the proposition it has advanced to state clearly international duty or duties on which they are based, and to state clearly international duty or duties on which they are based, and to demonstrate the violation of which it complains A charge against a sovereign government, as having evinced culpable negligence in the exercise of one of the powers of sovereignty is an imputation which should be sustained by strong and solid reasons. A nation ought not to be held responsible for a delay or omission which may be due simply to accident and not to want of foresight or reasonable care Finally it does not suffice to demonstrate that an act has been committed, which Government should have foreseen. What must be advanced and proved is that the Government failed to exercise the same amount of care as is usually employed in internal affairs, and which may be reasonably required to use in matters affecting international interests and duties.

If the tribunal decides that Great Britain has incurred any responsibility whatever toward the United States the question will then arise as to what will be a just measure and extent of that responsibility. Her Majesty's Government abstains at present from entering on this question, and reserves for a more advanced period of the discussion all observations that it shall have to submit on this point in the name of Great Britain If claims of this kind were admitted without reserve, a belligerent could ask to be indemnified by a neutral for results which virtually ought not to be laid to the acts of the latter, but should be placed to its own incapacity and inactivity. Her Majesty's Government is obliged to point out that, in regard to the ships which form the object of the preceding statement, the United States Government or its officers exercised extraordinary tardiness in employing the naval forces at its command, and that if ordinary activity were exercised to intercept these vessels, the losses of which the United States complains to-day would have been in a great part averted. Whether the decision of the tribunal is or is not favorable to her, Great Britain is ready to yield to the decision— She has only one wish—that it may be just. She has only one pretension—that it be founded on a faithful and equitable interpretation of the rights of man and on principles which herself and all other Powers will not repent of recognizing and observing, either as neutrals or belligerents, in time to come.

REMOVED

The office of The Daily and Weekly Oregonian is removed to the S E corner of Stark and Front streets

Agricultural Development

The agricultural development of the newer States of the Union has been very remarkable States that were barely self sustaining twenty years ago are now foremost in the rank of producers It seems but a few years since New York was the great grain growing district of the country, but now she ranks tenth, barely raising sufficient grain to feed her own population The wonderful development of agriculture west of the Alleghany range is due to three agencies viz the great multiplicity of railroads the low price of fertile lands, and the growth of labor saving farm implements Machines of various kinds now supersede manual labor to a great extent throughout the agricultural districts the reaping and mowing machines plows cultivators hay forks, manipulated by horse power, and drill sowers in particular, having been brought to wonderful perfection The great desideratum to perfect the requirements of the farm is a practical steam plow to be afforded at a popular price and such an implement, it cannot be doubted will soon be supplied The following figures from the census of 1870 afford matter for interesting contemplation and contrast as to the productiveness of the soil of the leading grain growing States

| Product of wheat in 1868— | Average bushels | Average per acre |
|---|---|---|
| Illinois | 29 200 000 | 11 2 |
| Iowa | 25 000 000 | 14 7 |
| Wisconsin | 24 000 000 | 15 3 |
| California | 21 500 000 | 20 7 |
| Indiana | 20 600,000 | 14 4 |
| Ohio | 20 400 000 | 15 5 |
| Pennsylvania | 16 500 000 | 14 8 |
| Minnesota | 19 000 000 | 16 3 |
| Michigan | 16 800,000 | 15 2 |
| New York | 9,750,000 | 10 |

The small yield per acre of some of the leading States, notably Illinois, is no doubt due to the bad system of cropping year after year upon the same land, instead of a diversification of farming industry. Time and experience may be relied upon to correct this evil. Every year the growth of population and manufacturing industries are pushing the granary of the country further West, and from present indications, in another decade the great bulk of the wheat produced in the United States for export, will be grown West of the Mississippi river. In 1859, according to data furnished by the General Land Office, 25,000,000 bushels of wheat were harvested West of the Mississippi river, in 1867, the amount had reached 55,000,000 bushels, in 1868, it had reached upwards of 90,000 000, in 1870 the amount probably reached upwards of 100,000,000 Premising that the coming year will be favorable to cereal crops, the wheat crop West of the Mississippi river will probably exceed a hundred million bushels. Out of this aggregate will be taken nearly all the wheat for export. Wheat growing in the new Northwest has only just been fairly inaugurated, The railroads now being constructed, will open up a vast region known to be the best wheat land in the world There are millions of acres of virgin soil from which wheat harvests will be taken where now there is not so much as a common road, and settlers have not as yet filed their pre-emption claims Wheat production may decrease in all the States East of the Mississippi. But it will increase in all the vast territory known as the New Northwest, comprising an area greater than that occupied by all the States East of the Mississippi In the place of the one hundred million bushels we shall soon find that wheat production has gone up to five hundred million bushels. A leading commercial paper of New York points to the fact that the granary of the United States, and for no inconsiderable part of Europe, will be in this region

Our "Case"

In the controversy which has arisen for compensation from England, growing out of depredations committed by the Alabama, Florida, Shenandoah, and other Confederate cruisers, the case is susceptible of being strongly put by the American people The turning loose of these vessels, it is believed in the United States, was deliberately done by the British Government for the purpose of breaking down our commerce. Our merchant vessels, in fact were almost swept from the ocean. From being the first maritime nation in the world we were at once put back twenty years. It would be unreasonable for the United States to be satisfied with a mere money consideration for a few vessels lost The country asks something more, and the Sacramento Union expresses the general feeling in the following short extract

> Of what account is it to take thirty or forty millions of dollars and settle a principle, that Great Britain now wants to have settled as we would have it acknowledged before the war? It is a poor consolation to see our commerce on the ocean transferred to Great Britain by the culpability of that nation, to see her enriched to the amount of hundreds of millions by what she has gained, and then take not more than the profits of one year on that commerce wrongfully obtained, and call the matter square The principle is right, that the injured party shall be redressed, and not that the guilty shall prosper from his outrages. Either Great Britain is responsible for the acts of pirate vessels that sailed from her ports, or she is not If she is, it is nonsense to offer a few dollars, when we have lost and Britain has gained hundreds of millions by the iniquity If she is not responsible she does not owe us a cent. The man who robs another of his fortune and has had the benefit of the proceeds for years can well afford to restore the bare value at the time it was taken and chuckle over the transaction. The American people are in no mood to hear such a chuckle unless they make it themselves They are able to pay off the Alabama claims and keep them as a good investment, and that they will probably do keeping up the usual smiles for our cousins across the Atlantic

This is from the Boston Journal

> We think we know the political sentiment of New England, and we find it wholly and heartily for Grant Practically to use an old political phrase, New England is solid for Grant, and we are unable to see any ground for his exceptional popularity here Among the Republican press and gatherings of the Middle States, the West and the South, we note the evidences of the same appreciation

The same paper, which has often criticised President Grant and has in general supported Senator Sumner, now gives it as its opinion that the President has maintained his popularity with the country intact, and that Mr Sumner in lately opposing his renomination, has forfeited the sympathy of the very class of Republicans who stood by him in the San Domingo matter "

The Army Register for 1872 which will soon be published contains a list of all the officers of the United States army The full number of officers authorized by law is 2 261, but the names of only 2,079 are now borne on the rolls, so that there are 182 vacancies Of these vacancies the most important are a Colonel in the Adjutant General's Department, three Colonels in the Quartermaster General's Department one Brigadier General (Paymaster General in the Pay Department a Colonel of Engineers a Colonel of Ordnance a Chief Medical Purveyor There are now thirteen general officers of the army to wit General Sherman Lieutenant General Sheridan Major Generals Meade Hancock and Schofield and Brigadier General McDowell Cooke, Pope Howard Terry Ord Canby and Augur These Generals are named in their order of seniority, there being three Major Generals and eight Brigadiers By existing laws it is provided that no promotions are to be made to the rank of Brigadier until the number of that rank is reduced below six

The following telegraphic correspondence which fully explains itself has just been made public

PORTLAND March , 1872

HON GEO H WILLIAMS Telegrams here announce that the State title to swamp lands near Klamath Lake has been confirmed Is it true?

It is not true that swamp land titles are confirmed They are far from it

This flatly contradicts a telegram recently sent by Mr Gilfry from Washington

First Is the valley within the limits of a railroad land grant?

Second Will wheat and oats ripen well there?

Third Is there generally much snow during the winter?

Fourth Is there good mill power on the stream?

Fifth Is the road spoken of as being incorporated as a county road, of very steep grade?

Republican Resolutions

The following resolutions were adopted at the Republican Convention in Clackamas county on Saturday

Resolved, That we the Republican party of Clackamas county, Oregon, declare the following to be our principles

1st We cordially endorse the wise and humane administration of President Grant, and point with patriotic pride to the peace and prosperity of the country and the great reduction of the National debt during his Administration

2d We favor universal amnesty and an economical administration of the Government, a speedy return to specie payment, by the government and National Banks and a gradual reduction of taxation

3d We favor the re election of President Grant

4th We favor the encouragement of Railroads and other internal improvements by the General Government , but the United States should dispose of the public lands only to actual settlers, in small quantities not to exceed one hundred and sixty and at not more than $2 50 per acre, and in case of railroad grants, the proceeds of the sales only should vest in these corporations

5th We are opposed to the Democratic litigant law the swamp land grabbing law to the removal by the last Legislature and Governor of municipal officers fairly elected by the people, thus subverting the elective franchise, to the robbing of our school fund of two hundred thousand dollars to the detriment of our common school system, and we pledge ourselves to use our influence to amend those partial and unjust acts

Talk and Inspiration

Good talk is not a matter of will at all, it depends—you know we are all half material ists now-a days—on a certain amount of active congestion of the brain, and that comes when it is ready, and not before I saw a man get up the other day in a pleasant company and talk away about five minutes, evidently by a pure effort of will His person was good, his voice was pleasant, but anybody could see that it was all mechanical labor, he was sparring for wind, as the Hon John Morrissey, M C , would express himself, Presently—

Do you—Beloved, I am afraid you are not old enough—but do you remember the days of the tin tinder box, the flint, and steel? Click! Click! Click?—Ah-h h! knuckles that time! click! click! click! a spark has taken, and is eating into the black tinder as a six year old eats into a sheet of gingerbread.

Presently after hammering away for five minutes with mere words, the spark of a happy expression took somewhere among the mental combustibles, and then for ten minutes we had a pretty, wandering scintillating play of eloquent thought that enlivened, if it did not kindle all around it If you want the real philosophy of it, I will give it to you The chance thought or expression struck the nervous center of consciousness as the rowel of a spur stings the flank of a racer Away through all the telegraphic radiations of the nervous cords flashed the intelligence that the brain was kindled, and must be fed with something or other, or it would burn itself to ashes And all the great hydraulic engines poured in their scarlet blood, and the fire kindled, and the flames rose, for the blood is a stream that, like burning rock-oil, at once kindles and is itself the fuel, You can't or der these organic forces, any more than a milliner can make a rose She can make something that looks like a rose, more or less, but it takes all the forces of the universe to finish and sweeten that blossom in your button hole, and you may be sure that when the orator's brain is in a flame, when the poet's heart is in a tumult, it is something mightier than he and his will that is dealing with him -Oliver Wendell Holmes in the Atlantic Monthly for February

WHAT TO DO IN EMERGENCIES —If a person falls in a fit and begins to snore loudly it is apoplexy Let him be seated so as to favor the flood going downwards from the head apply cold cloths to the head, or cushions to equal quantities of snow or pounded ice and common salt If the person is perfectly still face pale, and there is no perceptible breathing it is a fit of fainting Do not touch him except to loosen the clothing then keep off five or ten feet distant so as to allow the air to come in make no noise and there will soon be a calm quiet return to consciousness and life for it is only a momentary cessation of the circulation of the blood to the head But suppose there is a very violent motion of the hands and feet and are all sorts of bodily contortions it is epilepsy Let the man contort until he is tired, you can't hold him still all your efforts only tend to aggravate the trouble and to exhaust the strength all that ought to be done is to keep the unfortunate from hurting himself There is no felt suffering for as soon as he comes to he will tell you that he remembers nothing whatever of what has passed appears to be the only calm and self possessed person in the whole crowd and is apparently as perfectly well as before the occurrence Dizziness often comes instantaneously, and we begin to reel before we know it Shut the eyes, whether you are walking along the street looking over a precipice ascending a ladder or climbing to a ship's mast, hand the fear of dizziness disappears instantly if you look upwards Hall's Journal of Health

NORTH SAN JUAN March 11 —Le Gard's jewelry store was broken into and robbed last night of watches and jewelry to the amount of $300 The safe was not molested

DAVISVILLE, March 11 —A boat plying between this place and Sacramento yesterday was upset, and Mrs S. N Huff of Sacramento and Master Phillaboy, and R Johnson of this place, were drowned Only the body of Phillaboy recovered The accident was owing to the incompetency of the man in charge of the boat

SANTA CRUZ March 11 —John Speers, native of Montreal, Canada, died suddenly in the county jail last night

VALLEJO, March 11 —Naval Constructor Wm H Barney, of Mare Island is ordered to report for duty at Washington His successor will be Geo F Mullett, formerly foreman ship carpenter

NEVADA

CARSON, March 11 —Between the hours of one and five o'clock this morning nine prisoners escaped from the county jail, none of whom have been recaptured. They raised one of the heavy flag stones under the jail and dug their way out, All had shackles on and all were of the party that escaped from the Carson State Prison in September last, and were to have a trial on that charge to-day There is no doubt but that they received help from outside parties The Governor has offered a reward of $200 each for their recapture and return

VIRGINIA March 11 —At Silver City yesterday William Klimartin, a laboring man, went into a saloon, sat down and died in three minutes of congestion of the lungs

The boarding house near the old mill between Washoe and Steamboat, was burned on Friday night

Weather disagreeable light snow falling No wind to night

CONVERTED —After reading Theodore Tilton's life of Victoria Woodhull the editor of the Boise Statesman is convinced that women should be allowed to vote. He says ' For our part we have no objection to the ladies exercising the elective franchise We don t know that it would do much good We can't see that it would do any harm Why not women be politicians as well as men? It don't require much physical ability to be a strong politician A good talker, one who knows how to lay tricks and pull wires, is generally counted a chief in his party " The worthy editor then acknowledges that there is a strong feeling against woman suffrage but adds: ' Politics makes strange bed fellows and there's nothing like getting used to things Taken in connection with the woman movement this last assertion accords well with the promiscuous bed fellow theory of the Woodhull Claflin Tilton clique Owyhee Avalanche

Josh Billings defines a thurrer bred bizzness man as ' won that knows enuff about stealin so that they kant enny body steal from him and enuff about law so that he kin do his stealin legall

THE SECOND LECTURE OF THE COURSE WILL be delivered by W D HARE Esq on

Wednesday Evening, March 13th, 1872,

at 7½ o'clock

SUBJECT—"Ought we to have a National System of Compulsory Education"

This subject is rapidly assuming great importance in the minds of the people of the United States The sentiment is growing that we should not longer be content to see ourselves surpassed by the monarchical governments of Europe Our existence as a nation depends upon popular education and our advancement in national power wisdom and virtue will keep pace with its extension Already has a bill been introduced in Congress looking toward the establishment of a National System and we shall soon find it to be an important element in our politics

MR HARE has devoted considerable study to this subject and his Lecture will be a plea for a national law, showing the necessity for it in a moral religious and civil point He will show the errors in our present system and prove that we have the power to remedy the defects by Congressional enactment

No one who has the welfare of his country at heart can afford to miss this Lecture It is impossible to overestimate its importance Of Mr Hare's ability to treat this subject it is unnecessary to speak. He is well known in this community as a man of profound and honest convictions a lawyer of much ability and a fluent and agreeable speaker His name is sufficient guarantee that the subject will be presented with all the power which its importance demands mh6dtd

The Daily Oregonian.

The Office of THE DAILY AND WEEKLY OREGONIAN is removed to the S E corner of Stark and Front streets

A PRINTER OUT OF LUCK —We have been shown a letter from Mr Henry Denlinger, late a compositor in this office, who, becoming charmed with the idea of a rural life fresh vegetables sweet milk, and all that sort of thing had taken up a farm at Yaquina Bay and invested the surplus fruits of several years' labor in a cabin a garden, and "lowing herds" in short our typo had gone into the "frugal swain" business on the Yaquina hills. During the winter he was over the mountains, in the Wallamet valley, and finally, when ready to go to his ranch, was detained by high water for several days Upon reaching home he wrote "All along the route I was cheered with the intelligence that cattle had never wintered in better condition My cows were no exception but within a week prior to my arrival all the cows were dead—poisoned with wild parsnip or a weed resembling lark spur Under the circumstances I don t think we will need a walking beam churn right away, and I hope Mr Pettee will excuse me for not taking one. Some of the cattle were almost fat enough for beef Oh yes cattle business pays—sometimes

FURTHER OF THE LAST MYSTERY —Yesterday morning, in giving an account of the finding of John Carey with his throat cut, we stated that the room was splashed with blood as though he had been up when the deed was done, or had got up afterward and then returned to the bed Yesterday, however, we learned that all the signs of blood found were about or on the bed His coat was not, nor was his shirt sleeve, which indicates the deed was done after he had gone to bed Yesterday, a small three bladed pocket knife covered with blood was found, hidden under the carpet in his room Had there been blood on the carpet near this place, or anywhere off the bed, the mystery of the knife would have been at once resolved into an attempted murder, but we are told that there was no sign of blood anywhere to indicate that he got off the bed after his neck and arm were cut. The theory of attempted suicide is, therefore, further than ever from being plausible The man is still living, with chances greatly in favor of his final recovery

AS IT APPEARS AT A DISTANCE —Concerning the recent change in the ownership of the Herald, the Yreka Union (Democratic) says "Hallock have purchased a controlling interest in the Portland Herald, and the Democracy of that city are free from squabbles. This is indeed heaven, where the Grasshopper never and 'them Oro Fino' are at We can't say confidently about the Grass but we have an authority no less reliable than the inspired writers of the Scriptures, which the impossibility of the last proposition; there's no "rest" for 'em, whatever else they may have.

THE HISTORY OF LANGUAGE —This was the subject of a lecture delivered last Saturday evening by Judge Deady, before the Wallamet Society The lecturer traced the origin of various words, more particularly mythic ones, showing that language was a faithful reflex of the social condition of man at every period of history. An explanation of the origin and meaning of a number of words and phrases was interesting, and was listened to with attention, by an audience composed of members of the Society and their invited

DEATH OF AN ODD FELLOW —T. W Green, a member of Samaritan Lodge I. O. O. F, died at o'clock yesterday and will be buried this by the brethren of his Lodge. The is called to meet at the Hall at 1 o'clock P. M. was a printer, who came from San Francisco to work upon the Bulletin that paper was founded, and he re till a few days ago, when he was We understand that the printers of the city will also turn out in a body and assist in the obsequies of their late fellow-craftsman.

MRS. MILLER'S LECTURE —We publish this complimentary note to Mrs. M M. inviting her to repeat her late lecture on "Man—His Past, Present and Future," together with her reply, accepting the invitation, and appointing next Saturday evening as the time and Philharmonic Hall as the place We are glad to see this manifestation of appreciation of Mrs. Miller's talents. She unquestionably has talent of a high order, which only needs encouragement and recognition to place her on the high road to literary success

PASSENGERS FOR OREGON —The steamship Ajax sailed from San Francisco yesterday, for this port with the following list of passengers J R Chase, wife and three children, P Wasserman, Chas Fishel, Mrs M Kaufman, T H McCann, R Adams, Hugh Small, Miss R A Johnson, Miss M McFadden, J R Robbins and wife, J A Jury, T T Filger, Capt A Blair, D B Brown,

HOUSE BURGLARIZED —The residence of Dr on Fifth street, between Washington and Stark, was burglarized during Saturday night. The burglar stole a watch and some other He went apparently through the himself to whatever he wanted, and got away without waking the occupants of the

THE WAREHOUSE WRECK —A large force of were engaged yesterday in removing the of that part of the steamship wharf that broke down the other day Everything the floor is to be cleared away, and the wrecked portion of the building will be built soon.

CORRECTED LIST OF POSTOFFICES —We are indebted to Mr. Chittenden and others of the Postoffice for corrected list of Postoffices in this State and Washington Territory, which we publish this Cut it out for reference

THAT GHOST —The Coroner has notified the jury in the case of the "ghost that Mitchell saw," to assemble at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Coroner's office.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Considerable produce by rail last evening on the East Side.

There will be a dancing party at the American Exchange this evening

Every passably fair day now is a harvest season for the photographers

The umbrella crop this winter is the most profitable ever known, even in Oregon.

The river is still rising and still the Bulletin reporter is strangely and unwontedly silent about it

The bark Goldstream has been chartered by Allen & Lewis to carry a load of wheat to England

Mr. J F Caples will show the Washington Debating Society, this evening, how to fight "the battle of life"

Mr. Ed Hall, recently connected with the L & L & G Insurance Company, has joined the forces at the Express office

The postoffice folks want everybody to write the name of county as well as town and State in the address of letters or newspapers.

The Police Court room has recently been undergoing a process of regeneration. If the habitues could be regenerated a little, now.

The surveys of the Portland and Washington county Plank Roads to Centerville and Forest Grove via Hillsboro, will be commenced soon.

James Dwyer was held yesterday, by Judge Denny, to answer to the Circuit Court, for an assault with a deadly weapon. Bail fixed at $600

The Colonel of the Bulletin would have worked up the throat-cutting case into a half column with sensation heads, only, he couldn't find anything in that scrap book which fitted the case

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER —There was a good house last night, to see the brilliant drama of "Belphegor." The play is not only exceedingly well drawn, but is racy in dialogue, rapid in incident and change, and exciting in the progress and development of plot. The character of Belphegor is one in which Mr. Waldron appears to excellent advantage, and the cast is such as to give him effective support The play will be repeated to-night.

LECTURE —Mr. J. F. Caples, one of the leading attorneys of this city and a fluent talker, will deliver a lecture this evening at Philharmonic Hall, before the Washington Debating Society He entitles his lecture "The Battle of Life" Knowing as we do that Mr. Caples has bestowed much more than usual care in the preparation of this lecture, we are prepared to expect something better in the way of entertainment than is furnished upon the average lecture evenings

Lassitude and Debility.

The relaxation of nervous energy which creates an indisposition to physical or mental effort, so strong as almost to amount to positive inability, and which we term lassitude proceeds from a variety of causes The principal of these are constitutional debility, heat of the atmosphere, coupled with humidity, climatic changes, and the physical prostration consequent upon a long illness But whatever the cause, it must be perfectly clear that if the nervous system is suddenly relaxed something is required to brace it up That something is Hostetter s Bitters, which is universally recognized as the most complete and speedy recuperant of the physical forces in existence. It has been so thoroughly and widely demonstrated as to be a matter of positive certainty and familiar knowledge, that the Bitters will not only rehabilitate the physique, when shattered and wasted by disease, but will also, if taken systematically actually compensate the constitutionally feeble frame for its deficiency of strength and by infusing new life into a weak system, endow it with the health and vigor which Nature has denied it The Bitters also enable the body to resist the enervating influences of heat, humidity and changes from a temperate to a hot climate It is on these accounts specially to be recommended to travelers and residents in the torrid zone, and persons subjected to abrupt transitions in temperature.

After Supper Talk.

"After dinner talk" has been thought of great importance. The expression has passed into literature, with many records of the good sayings it included. Kings and ministers condescend to make efforts at it; poets and philosophers—greater than kings and ministers—do not disdain to attempt to shine in it.

But nobody has yet shown what "after supper talk" ought to be. We are not speaking now of the formal entertainment known as "a supper;" we mean the every day evening meal in the every day home—the meal known heartily and commonly as "supper," among people who are neither so fashionable nor so foolish as to take a fourth meal at hours when they ought to be asleep in bed.

This ought to be the sweetest and most precious hour of the day. It is too often neglected and lost in families. It ought to be the mother's hour; the mother's opportunity to undo any mischief the day may have done, to forestall any mischief the morrow may threaten. There is an instinctive disposition in most families to linger about the supper table, quite unlike the eager haste which is seen at breakfast and at dinner. Work is over for the day; everybody is tired, even the little ones who have done nothing but play. But father is ready for slippers and a comfortable chair; the children are ready and eager to recount the incidents of the day. This is the time when all should be cheered, rested, and also stimulated by just the right sort of conversation, just the right sort of amusement.

The wife and mother must supply this need, must create this atmosphere. We do not mean that the father does not share the responsibility of this, as of every other hour. But this particular duty is one requiring qualities which are more essentially feminine than masculine. It wants a light touch and an undertone to bring out the full harmony of the ideal home evening. It must not be a bore. It must not be wholly like play; [illegible] no, not if it could be helped, not be always—the same! It must be that most indefinable, most recognizable thing, "a good time." Bless the children for inventing the phrase! It has, like all their phrases, an uncommon touch of sacred inspiration in it, in the selection of the word "good," which, coming from God, lays peculiar benediction on all things to which it is set.

If there were no other reason against children having lessons assigned them to study at home, we should consider this a sufficient one, that it robs them of the after supper hour with their parents. Even [illegible] could bear without injury the [illegible], or [illegible] hour, as it may be, [illegible] cannot bear the being starved.

In the av[illegible] family, this is the one only hour in the day when fa[illegible], and [illegible] can be together, free of cares and unk[illegible]. Even to the poorest laborer's family comes now something like peace and rest forerunning the intermission of the night.

Everybody who has any artistic sense recogni[illegible] this instinctively when they see through the open doors of humble houses the father and mother and children gathered around [illegible] simple [illegible]. Its mention has al[illegible] into [illegible] in verse, so inevitably have poets felt the sacred charm of the hour.

P[illegible] there is something deeper than on first thought would appear in the instant [illegible] one has in this sight; also, in the [illegible] that the evening gathering of the family is the most sacred one. P[illegible] is [illegible] tradition that [illegible] when night falls, and that in this hour lies, or should lie, the spell to dri[illegible] all away.

Th[illegible] is [illegible] terrible in the mi[illegible] of danger and protection, of harm and [illegible] of good and bad, in that one thing. [illegible] God "giveth his beloved sleep" in it; and in it the devil sets his worst lures, by help of it [illegible] a soul which he could never get po[illegible] of in sunlight.

M[illegible], fathers! cultivate "after supper talk;" play "[illegible];" keep "after [illegible] books;" take all the good newspapers and magazines you can afford, and [illegible] aloud "after supper." Let your [illegible] bring their fr[illegible] home with [illegible] at twilight, sure of a pleasant and hospitable welcome of a good time "after supper," and you may laugh to [illegible] all the temptations which town or village can set before [illegible] to draw them away from home for their [illegible].

[illegible] are but [illegible] hints, bare suggestions. But if they arouse one heart to a new realiz[illegible] of what [illegible] at home too often are they [illegible] not have spoken in vain nor out of [illegible].

Social Gossip.

This [illegible] article contains some very [illegible] and just [illegible]. It is from the San Fran[illegible]:

Maidens! remove the locks from your doors. Matrons! entice your spouses into [illegible] while you throw open the portals to the Social Gossip. He comes in form of [illegible] in him; he is [illegible] he is past that, if ever he [illegible] his [illegible] self—he is [illegible] more, nothing less than a prowler [illegible] woman's [illegible]. He eyes a woman's [illegible] and then [illegible] it in bad English. To [illegible] all silk is [illegible] or "moir antique," all light fabrics "tarltan," all lace [illegible]. In his work, [illegible] eyes a pale, bleached-out woman is a "[illegible]," and a bilious, dyspeptic, [illegible] a "ravishing b[illegible]." When the [illegible] object of his pointed pencil changes [illegible] her hair [illegible], the coiffure is [illegible]. If simply [illegible], it is [illegible] as au naturel.

The Social Gossip invades the dressing [illegible] ball, and the pantry of a private party; or failing an opportunity to [illegible] in [illegible] he vicariously looks on with a nigger waiter or a Dutch fiddler for medium. He [illegible] to any subterfuge that he may obtain the material upon which to base his grotesquely [illegible] of what he [illegible] was the costume of the costume of the [illegible] he immodestly parades in his bar-room paper. A cheap, vulgar [illegible] of ill-bred snobs at a low [illegible] house he calls "recherche," and under [illegible] of "Society," paraded in the largest of type, he described a nigger ball.

Shall we never be rid of the Social Gossip—the [illegible] who, for a base stipend, [illegible] his ignorance of good so[illegible] in his [illegible] of names and his ignorance of breeding by the manner in which he [illegible] the "social events"? How far is this Social Gossip to go before he is [illegible]? Must he be permitted, as ang[illegible] in the first paragraph of this screed, to [illegible] chamber and the ma[illegible]-room? Is he to be permitted to so harden himself that he will at last write [illegible] the form of hose and the size of [illegible] to our daughters, or minutely des[illegible] the monogram on our babies' [illegible], at the suggestion of his journalistic owner? Is there no philanthropist, in [illegible], who will give these Social Gossips some other and more congenial occupation—some less dis[illegible] and more fitting form of night work than this of describing the habil[illegible] of women at balls? For, God's truth! these descriptions are so badly done that the women laugh and the dressmakers wonder what form of donkey wears out his simple shoulder in dragging this journalistic swill cart through the mire of sensationalism.

Good friend! throttle thou the Social Gossip with a garter au naturel; shroud his [illegible] corse in woman's petticoat, decollete; and, at last, over his neglected grave erect a diaper pin for a memorial monument! Amen.

Secretary Belknap.

A Washington correspondent gives this bit of news:

Gossip has it that General Belknap, the Secretary of War, will some day marry the widow, Mrs. Bowers, his sister-in-law. Mrs. Bowers is a beautiful Kentucky woman, of a soft, retiring manner, and a warm, gentle add[illegible], which is quite novel here amongst our cold, practical, gray-eyed Northern women. She still dresses in black; but at the last reception, where she presided with the General, she wore her dress quite low in the neck. Gen. Belknap is probably the best of Grant's Cabinet selections among the younger men. He is a fine, soldierly-looking man, broad shouldered, shapely, and with a superb Flemish complexion and fine beard. He has a fine way of intercourse, conciliates almost everybody, and seldom antagonizes himself. He lives strictly within his salary.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

MONDAY EVENING, March 11, 1872.

Gold in New York, 110⅛; Bonds, 111⅝@111.

Greenbacks in San Francisco, 91½@92.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 90½c buying and 91½c selling.

The bark Coldstream is chartered by Messrs. Allen & Lewis to load Wheat for the United Kingdom.

The steamship California leaves to-morrow afternoon for Victoria and Sound ports.

The steamship Ajax left San Francisco to-day. She is due here Saturday morning.

The steamship Ajax will bring up a full cargo, composed mostly of back freight by the overland railroad. Messrs. L. White & Co. received a telegram stating that they had on board nearly six hundred packages of Dry Goods and Clothing. Other firms, it is safe to conclude, have also large shipments on her. It is thought that the Idaho will bring up balance of overdue freight by the overland railroad. All our interior merchants can come to our city on and after next week with a certainty of finding a full line of all articles sold by them.

It was confidently claimed by San Francisco merchants that the price of Coffee would by the first of this month be at least 20@21c per pound in invoice lots in San Francisco. That their opinion was based upon a true estimate of the supply in producing countries, together with the rapid increase in consumption in all civilized countries, has been fully confirmed by late Eastern exchanges, but that prices have been kept steady without an advance establ[illegible] is owing to overland communication East being stopped by the snow blockade. Our Eastern advices state that the steamship North America, which arrived in New York the third week of February, brought 8,324 bags which cost laid down there from 1 to 1½c per pound above nominal quotations of Feb. 24th. Owing to the uncertainty attending the result of the tariff question, the views of buyers and holders were at variance, causing quotations to be entirely nominal. Advices from light stocks, but owing to the agitation of the tariff question, merchants would not stock up. The same spirit of uncertainty that prevails in the Eastern market also pervades our market to a certain extent, although the light stock in San Francisco and here, with orders on that market from St. Louis and other Western cities, together with the impossibility at present of receiving [illegible] from Central America, owing to the heavy shipments from New York of, through freights via Panama, gives a steady and firm market. If the present Congress [illegible] to [illegible] the duty on Coffee, then prices will probably recede here not to exceed 1 cent per pound, but if the duty is put at 3 cents, then there will be an advance, or if the tariff be not disturbed prices will rule here at fully [illegible] cents per pound for different grades, with Java [illegible] relatively more. The New York gold [illegible] lots for Rio, in bond, are as follows:

|---|---|
| Ordinary cargoes | 16¼@18¼ cents. |
| Fair cargoes | 16½@17 " |
| Good cargoes | 17½@17¾ " |
| Prime cargoes | @18¼ " |

At the last Government sale at Amsterdam, of Java, on February 21st, 75,000 bags were disposed of, bringing an advance on former sale of 1@1½ cents per pound. The stock of Brazil Coffee in the different importing sea port cities on the Atlantic Ocean Feb. 24th and amount afloat, together with amount to load up to Jan. 25th, is unusually large, being 289,548 bags, as follows:

The following letter from British Columbia explains itself:

VICTORIA, V. I., B. C., March 4, 1872.

Messrs. Williams & Myers, Portland, Oregon—GENTS: On Saturday last a bill passed the Legislative Assembly accepting the Canadian Tariff, which is far less than what we are paying at present. The following are a few of the comparisons:

| | B. C. Tariff. | | Canadian Tariff | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Flour | per bbl. $1 50 | | per bbl. $0 25 | |
| Butter | per lb. | 10 | per lb. | 4 |
| Cheese | " | 5 | " | 3 |
| Bacon and Hams | " | 4 | " | 1 |
| Lard | " | 5 | " | 1 |
| Eggs | per doz. | 12½ | | Free |
| Wheat | per 100lbs. | 30 | per bushels | 4 |
| Oats, Barley, etc | | | | 3 |

From the above you will see that it is not safe for us to order goods at present, not knowing at what [illegible] the new tariff will come into force. When it [illegible] it will be of great help to us. We remain yours respectfully,

RAKIN & CO.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—No change in the market. Liverpool quotations give 11s 10d with market still tending down. The Coldstream, of 800 tons, is secured to load for Cork. Her cargo is in war[illegible] in this city.

FLOUR—The p[illegible] of the Canadian Tariff bill will cause a [illegible] to rule for Whit[illegible] and Nan[illegible] until after it goes into effect, which will be the 1st of May. Shipments to Puget Sound will continue with the same liberality as heretofore. No change in price to note.

OATS—Owing to a continued pressure on the [illegible] ship of delayed freights by the overland railroad shipments will be light by steamer and as there are no sail [illegible] on the berth in San Francisco we need expect no great inc[illegible] in stock under a month. Market rules steady and firm at last quotations.

Oranges are plentiful, but for the most part are very small and sell at extremely low prices. The quality is, however, good, and this ought to encourage a more free consumption of this delicious fruit. Apples of choice quality are rather scarce, and prices a shade higher. Bananas and Cocoanuts are in good supply. Cranberries continue very abundant and cheap. Apples—Choice, $1 50@2 ⅌ box; Common, 50@75c. Pears—Eastern Bosco, $1 50. Eastern Cranberries, $16@17 ⅌ bbl.
